

Durff Classroom Expectations

- You are a professional student. I expect that you will act like one.

Be Respectful by:

- Remaining silent while another person is speaking.
- Keeping extremities and critical thoughts to yourself.
- Not eating or drinking in the room (water is permissible if kept on the floor in a closed container but the first time you spill it, you forfeit the privilege).
- Remaining in your seat until you are dismissed by me, not when the bell rings.
- Doing what I ask you to do the first time you are asked. Debate is not an option.

Other Things to know

- We will exit out the elementary wing & congregate by the soccer field in case of fire.
- Complete silence during a lockdown drill is required.
- Your behavior is reflected in your grade.
- When consequences are necessary, they may include warnings, detentions, & calls home.
- There are three participation points each week for coming to your three classes prepared. A prepared student has earbuds/earphones with them, completes the Daily Scribe when scheduled, & stays on task throughout the class as required.
- Searching for anything in the URL bar is the WRONG place to search for anything and can result in consequences. Always search in the search bar.
